Local Level Alliance

"Working Together for Better Community Outcomes"

What is the Brisbane Local Level Alliance?

The Brisbane Local Level Alliance (LLA) is a collection of services from across Brisbane who come together monthly or quarterly around a variety of issues affecting children, young people and families.

Member organisations are committed to collaborating to improve outcomes for families, particularly those experiencing disadvantage. Our membership spans government, community and for-profit agencies across education, health, justice and the social sector.

Why the Local Level Alliances were established across Queensland?

The Local Level Alliances were initiated by the Queensland Government as a reform response to the Queensland Child Protection Commission of Inquiry (Commission) report recommendations regarding the need for improved place-based initiatives to harness local knowledge and increase coordinated collaboration across the Queensland child protection sector.

The report makes several references to the need for regional alliances and structures. The Local Level Alliances are delivered as a function of the Family and Child Connect Program funding. For Brisbane, Yadeni Tago, also known as the Combined Indigenous and non-indigenous Family and Child Connect for the Greater Brisbane region is delivered by Kurbingui Youth and Family Development. This integrated model in called "Yadeni Tago" which is Turrbal language for "Advancing Together".

What The LLA Sets Out To Achieve

The LLA's purpose as "To establish or strengthen connections between local services who work with vulnerable families to deliver the right services at the right time".

Our program guidelines outline the following LLA outcomes:

- ✓ Building community capacity to provide a more efficient service provision for families and a thriving local community.
- ✓ Improved and more direct referral pathways for families to access appropriate services.
- ✓ Family and Child Connect embedded as an alternate pathway for families to be connected to the right support at the right time.
- ✓ Improved information sharing between providers to enable more coordinated and effective responses to families.
- ✓ Responses aligned to better support vulnerable families and strengthen service integration, such as a shared practice framework and resources.
- ✓ Contribute to service system integration through identification of available services and gaps, improvement in the alignment between the configuration of the service system and the needs of local families.
- ✓ Contribute to place-based planning for the development of an integrated suite of local services that provide families with responsive, accessible and effective support.

What We Do

The Brisbane LLA adopts methods from community development and collective impact approaches. We listen to our members and work to establish local initiatives driven by local organisations.

Our monthly Family Support Collectives and working groups currently meet to discuss group objectives which are informed by local needs, driven and resourced by the commitment of local organisations and government departments. These collectives are based in all over Brisbane.

We host Brisbane Region Quarterly Meetings. These are held to provide information, networking, working group updates and stimulate discussion and member involvement in broad systemic issues that LLA may be able to assist with addressing. The topics are decided by the collectives and are attended by expert panels, members, local organisations, government departments and community.
